1. Research: Explore various herbal correspondences and magical properties to understand which plants align with your intentions.
2. Gather: Cultivate or purchase the plants you need for your spells. It's preferable to grow your own herbs if possible, as this helps you build a deeper connection with them.

3. Cleanse: Before using any plants in your spells, cleanse them of any negative energies by smudging or other purification rituals.
4. Charge: Infuse the plants with your intentions and desires by visualizing your goals and focusing your energy on them.
5. Create: Use your charged plants in various spellwork, such as creating sachets, potions, teas, or even simply incorporating them into your environment for their energies to surround you.
6. Practice: Regularly practice and refine your herbal spells, making adjustments as needed to achieve your desired outcomes.
