

Discover the Heartfelt Love Letters From Cuba that Will Melt Your Soul: The Inspiring Story of Betty Viamontes

In a world overrun by fast-paced digital communication, where emotions are often reduced to a few characters on a screen, the art of love letters is slowly fading away. But deep within the colorful and vibrant streets of Cuba, one woman has breathed life into this forgotten tradition, bringing forth a collection of love letters that have the power to move you to tears. Meet Betty Viamontes, the guardian of love and emotions, who has compiled a treasure trove of heartfelt letters that speak volumes about the romance, passion, and resilience of the Cuban people.

Unearthing the Gems of Love

Betty Viamontes, a Cuban native, has dedicated her life to preserving the unique love stories that unfold on the picturesque island. The inspiration came to Betty when she stumbled upon her grandparents' love letters from the 1940s. The raw emotions, the delicate choice of words, and the palpable longing in those pages moved her beyond words. With a mission in her heart, Betty decided to embark on a journey to collect love letters from every corner of Cuba, keeping this timeless art alive.

Through her travels, Betty unearthed a treasure chest of love letters that spanned decades, each holding a story, an intimate connection, and a testament to the power of love. These letters come from people of all walks of life: from passionate love affairs amidst the sugarcane fields to clandestine correspondence during tumultuous political times, reflecting the heartaches, desires, and hopes of Cubans throughout history.

It's the year 2021, in the middle of a worldwide pandemic, when twenty-four-year-old Lena Pérez discovers her grandfather's love letters. She has just ended a three-year relationship with Paulo Oliviera—a Brazilian ex-soccer player—after realizing he will never be accepted by her Cuban-American mother. She feels lost. Through the letters kept by the wounded Vietnam veteran Rolando Pérez,

Lena learns about events that occurred long before her birth and took her grandfather from Cuba to the United States and Vietnam. Through these letters, she is able to peel the layers of who she is, learning about where her family comes from, uncovering secrets, and finding who she will become.

“In her newest novel, award-winning author Betty Viamontes uses the first-person narrative and brilliantly exploits the epistolary approach. As in her prior works, she continues to describe life in Cuba.

The novel is set in present day and is full of surprises that will keep you guessing what will happen next.” –Susana Jiménez-Mueller, storyteller and podcaster, author of Now I Swim and The Green Plantain - The Cuban Stories Project podcast.

About the Author

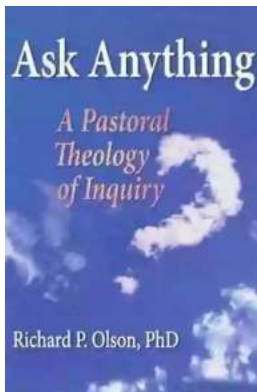

Betty Viamontes was born in Havana, Cuba. When Betty was fifteen, she and her family crossed the Florida Straits in an overcrowded shrimp boat on a stormy night when many families perished. This trip would reunite the family with Betty’s father in the United States after twelve years of separation. Betty completed graduate studies at the University of South Florida. Upon her mother’s death, Betty began to dedicate her life to capturing stories of people without a voice.

Her stories have traveled the world from the award-winning Waiting on Zapote Street to the No. 1 newest releases, The Pedro Pan Girls, Brotherhood: The Pedro Pan Boys, and The Girl from White Creek.

Betty has published nine books, including the novel she wrote to fulfill the promise she made to her mother before she died. Despite Betty’s mother’s battle with cancer, she witnessed many of Betty’s accomplishments. However, she was not able to see the publication of Waiting on Zapote Street, her story.

In 2018, actor Edward James Olmos announced that Waiting on Zapote Street had been a winner of the Latino Books Into Movies Award. The Latino Author website also lists this autobiographical novel as one of the best ten books of 2016, and in 2017 and again in 2020, it became an Amazon bestseller in its category, after being selected by a United Nations women's book club and multiple others.

Betty's life has been filled with many challenges, but she managed to survive those challenges and help others along the way.
