Terry can help your children to learn colors!

For children, color learning can start at around 18 months, along with other skills like shape recognition. However, recognizing colors is often difficult for children, since they have to know the color words and the characteristics of those colors.

This book presents the following colors through vivid and bright illustrations, some butterflies and of course, our little friend Terry:

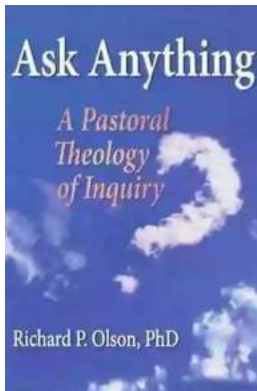

- Red
- Orange
- Yellow
- Green
- Blue
- Violet
- Pink
- Brown

- Black
- White

For each color, you can ask your child for the butterfly of that color and then for things in the image of the same color, to teach color words and recognition at the same time.
